

Abhishek Bhargawa

Digital Product Experience Designer (Sr. Manager)

I have a total of 18 years of diverse work experience in the design industry, IT, casino gaming, and service consultancy, and this has made me capable across all these fields. My career is built on deep technical design specialization within departmental settings with consistency in offering innovative solutions and excellent service. Some of my main areas of expertise include Team Leadership, Project Management, Collaboration, User Research and Analysis, Design Strategy and UX/UI Design Oversight.

I have implemented Design Standards & Processes, Performance Evaluation & Professional Development Programs successfully. My project achievements were driven by my experience in Stakeholder Management, Cybersecurity Design Services, Wireframing, Prototyping, Design Systems, and Technical Implementations.

My strengths are UI/UX Designs Research & Development, Tools and Pipeline Development, Performance Optimization & Assets, and Cross-functional collaboration with Developers. I have skills in documentation and communication, leadership and mentorship, and planning and preparation. I engage myself in continuous learning to keep up with the trends in the industry, which will enable me to create impactful pre-sales decks while offering creative problem-solving and fintech design services.

CLIENTS TESTIMONIALS

“I had the opportunity to work with Abhishek when we developed a business application system facilitating workflow to comply with mandates. He attended both creative and technical work sessions. He always came prepared, asked good questions, and helped the team understand the complex workflow. His UX experience led the creative team effectively, and bridge the gap with technical team. Not only was he easy to work with and open to discussion, I also observed his support to team members and leadership skills to ensure the team worked cohesively, which was critical especially during the pandemic. It was great working with Abhishek, and I wish him continued success.”

“Working with Abhishek on a few short-term projects was an absolute pleasure. His composure under pressure and commitment to excellence stood out, as did his proactive product design ideas that helped shape our product. He has the remarkable ability to take feedback from various stakeholders into account and come up with specific action plans accordingly. Furthermore, he is always willing to go above and beyond in order to ensure top results are achieved every time.”
